

Cor Medical Ventures is a leading medical device development company and accelerator with over 75 years of combined medical device experience.

Cor has a history of successful development of projects for major Orthopedic, Spine, Dental and Sports Medicine companies. Cor has founded, partnered with, and successfully exited several start-up companies within their accelerator business.